Medic 1 fund-raising drive opens today

The public fund drive to support the final months of research for Medic 1 begins today.

The drive, which will continue through the end of the month, seeks to raise $102,000.

A federal agency, the Washington/Alaska Regional Medical Program, started the life-saving unit with grants, but the agency's support was substantially cut this year, leaving Medic 1 in financial jeopardy.

The unit is an experimental mobile intensive-coronary-care unit operated by the Seattle Fire Department and Harborview Medical Center.

Fire Chief Gordon F. Vickery explained the unit's financial problem:

"On the credit side we are assured of $47,500 from the Regional Medical Program, $25,000 from the State Health Department, $75,000 from the City of Seattle, and $10,000 in previous donations for a total of $157,500.

"On the debit side, the Medic 1 program needs $175,000 to carry it through December 31, 1971. Then another $85,000 is needed to carry the program to June 30, 1972 (its planned completion date). This is a total of $260,000."

The fund drive seeks to raise the $102,000 difference.

"During this year approximately 1,000 Seattle-area residents will suffer heart attacks and die before they can reach a hospital," Vickery said. "These are the ones Medic 1 is reaching for."

Dr. Leonard A. Cobb, project director, said the unit hopes to be able to save one of every four victims that it reaches.

Every cent raised in the fund drive will go to support Medic 1, Vickery said. All campaign work is being volunteered and funds will not be paid to any fund-raising organization.

The drive headquarters will be in the drive-in entrance to the Olympic Hotel.

Contributions can be made at the headquarters or at a Medic 1 van to be in Westlake Mall during the drive. Contributions also can be made out to "Medic One" and mailed to P. O. Box 3100, Seattle 98114.

Rites set for Dr. Roger S. Anderson, 79

Memorial services for Dr. Roger S. Anderson, 79, well-known surgeon and former athlete who died last Thursday, will be at 4 p. m. tomorrow at St. Mark's Cathedral.

Dr. Anderson was a track star at Hamline University in St. Paul, setting a number of school records. He was elected to the school's Hall of Fame.

He came to Seattle in 1924 after graduation from the School of Medicine at Northwestern University. He practiced as an orthopedic surgeon here until his retirement in 1968.

While in practice and after his retirement, Dr. Anderson developed a number of devices for use in surgery and by the handicapped, including an operating table and plastic splints.

Dr. Anderson was a member of many national and international medical and fraternal organizations and served as a clinical professor of orthopedics at the University of Washington School of Medicine.

Survivors include his wife, Susan, 1740 Melrose Ave.; two sons, Roger C. and Stuart C. Anderson, both of Seattle; a daughter, Suzanne Anderson Peterson, Mercer Island; a brother, Arthur R. Anderson, St. Paul, and a sister, Ruth Anderson Maland, Evanston, Ill.

The family requested that remembrances may be made to the Northwest Research Foundation, St. Mark's Cathedral or another charity.

The Butterworth mortuary directed cremation.

Mexican detectives battle crime wave

MEXICO CITY — (Reuter) — Armed guards in business suits are mingling with bank customers here in an effort to check a crime wave.

The introduction of the plainclothes guards is part of a general police plan to foil the robbers.

All banks here are protected by blue-uniformed, pistol-carrying guards, who form one of the special police detachments in the capital. But they are often alone and can easily be overcome by determined robbers.

Some police officials believe the wave of robberies in Mexico City is connected with other crimes in provincial centers, and there is a theory that most are the work of guerrillas from other Central and South American countries.

Last November, two Costa Ricans arrested in the city of Puebla southeast of here told police they had taken part in several bank robberies in Mexico, the proceeds of which went to guerrilla movements in neighboring countries.

The Mexican peso, one of the world's strongest currencies and freely exchanged outside the country, is of particular value to left-wing movements seeking to buy arms, police believe.

But there is no doubt that some robberies are the work of criminals with no ideological motivation. Banks in the rich Pacific resort of Acapulco are frequent targets for mountain-based robbers who still operate in the State of Guerrero.

Last April, police fought a machine-gun battle through the streets of Nuevo Laredo, just over the border from the Texas town of Laredo, with a gang of Colombians who attacked a local bank and got away with $78,000.

Premier still in intensive care

HONOLULU — (AP) — Cambodian Premier Lon Nol remains in the intensive-care section of Tripler Army Hospital here after suffering a stroke, officials say.

Lon Nol was stricken a week ago and arrived in Honolulu on an Air Force plane Saturday.

A hospital spokesman said Lon Nol's left side was partly paralyzed as a result of the stroke but that his vital signs are normal and the premier is "alert, cooperative and cheerful."

Rites planned for Abbot Raphael Heider

A concelebrated pontifical Mass for the Rt. Rev. Raphael Heider, 67, will be said Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in St. Martin's Abbey, Lacey. Burial will be in the abbey cemetery. He died Friday.

Abbot Heider served as assistant priest of the Church of the Assumption here since retiring in 1964 after 20 years as abbot of St. Martin's Abbey.

Abbot Heider, a native of Marysville, entered the Benedictine school at the age of 11 and received virtually his entire education there. He taught mechanical drawing and fine arts for 20 years at St. Martin's High School and College before being named abbot.

Survivors include a brother, Lawrence Heider, St. Cloud, Minn.

Suspect slays detective, then is slain

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A man arrested on charges of molesting a teen-ager shot and killed a detective who was fingerprinting him at a police stationhouse today and then was killed by another policeman.

Police said a scuffle broke out as Detective Joseph Picciano fingerprinted Antonio Allemano, 32, in the Eighth District squad room in the Bronx.

Picciano's pistol fell to the floor. Allemano got it and fired three shots, two of them hitting the detective, police said. Detective William Lally, who had been outside the room, entered and fired four shots at Allemano, killing him.

Cholera threat noted in Africa

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo — (Reuter) — Cholera threatens to become endemic in Africa unless sewage and refuse problems are solved and hygiene improved, according to the regional office of the World Health Organization. It said 1970 was the worst year for the spread of the disease in Africa.

Overlake Hospital in remodeling

Overlake Memorial Hospital in Bellevue is being remodeled and expanded in a 10-month project.

The post-surgical recovery room, maternity delivery room and the emergency room are being enlarged. A new x-ray room with new equipment is being added.

Other alterations include expansion of the cafeteria, conversion of the east-wing basement for use as a center for medical records, meeting room and administrative offices.

The project is being financed through the hospital's building fund and a loan to be paid by operating revenues.

$1.5 million in cocaine seized

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Narcotics detectives say they made the largest seizure of cocaine ever at Kennedy Airport when they arrested three persons who stepped off a plane from Tucson, Ariz., yesterday. The cocaine was valued at $1.5 million when sold on the streets.

Officers said Luis Lopez, 32, a cook, and Catalina Carrasquillo, 20, a secretary, both of Paterson, N. J., and Isabel Suarez, 53, of New York City, had 11 pounds of cocaine from South America in their possession when they arrived on the American Airlines flight.

Assistant Queens District Attorney James Robertson said the suspects, charged with possession of narcotics, apparently picked up the cocaine in Tucson. He said more arrests are expected in the case, which has been under investigation for two months. He said the cocaine was meant for distribution in New York City.
